How to apply

Choosing a destination/1

Check on the destination list:

- cycle of studies (L= Bachelor's, M= Master's, D= PhD);
- ISCED code and academic area of your degree course;
- Language requirements (general information);
- Notes with useful comments.

How to apply

Choosing a destination/2

Check on the Universities websites:

- Academic offer and compatibility with your study plan;
- Language requirements (detailed information on level required, possible official certifications);
- Deadlines for nomination/application;
- Immigration rules.

It can be useful to contact your academic coordinator at the Department.

Language competences

ATTENTION! Language knowledge is a PRE-CONDITION of the mobility and not its goal!

BEFORE you express your destination preferences, make sure you meet their language requirements by checking their website information.

The Excel files attached to the call are an indicative source of information, which may change and all information has to be personally verified.

Besides English, most host universities require the knowledge of the local language (German, Spanish, French).

For Countries where less common languages are spoken such as Greece, Slovenia, Denmark, Poland, Romania, Czech Rep., Portugal, Norway, Sweden, English is accepted.

ATTENTION!

If deadlines for nomination/application have passed before the end of the selection process (before we publish the ranking lists), departure in the first semester cannot be guaranteed and mobility could be possible only in the second semester.

All student are invited to check for nomination/application deadlines on the website of the universities of interest before applying and expressing their preference.

How to apply

- Follow the instructions on the online application form from the student's personal page
- You can indicate up to max 5 preferences of destination: they are only indicative, the Office will take your preferences into account but can assign a different destination based on your position in the ranking list and your language proficiency.
- Their order does not indicate a preference as from 1 to 5 all the destinations are equally considered. It means you have checked all 5 destinations and you meet the requirements for all of them (academic offer and language requirements).

Please note: The system is requiring mandatory attachments. It's a bug we cannot fix: attachments are NOT MANDATORY.

However it's possible to attach documents you think might be helpful to evaluate your application (for example, a language official certificate) that have to be uploaded before the end of the procedure.

Score calculation

You will be ranked by score, that will be calculated based on the weighted average mark (media ponderata) + the number of credits obtained + years of enrolment by November 30th 2021.

Students enrolled in the 1st year of a Master course will be ranked based on their undergraduate career (at UNIBS or abroad), using the calculation provided by the Ministry of Education.

Ranking lists and destination assignment

- The host University will be assigned based on the position of the student in the ranking list, on the requirements of the partner universities, on the available places and where possible according to the student's expressed preferences;
- The destination preferences are meant as an indication only and they must take into account the language requirements and the students' study plan.
- Students enrolled in the first year of a Bachelor's or single-cycle master's degree will be ranked separately based on their high school final marks. They will be assigned a destination if any places are left available.

ATTENTION!

While starting the application procedure, students will be asked to indicate their language knowledge (from min A1 to max C2).

After the publication of the ranking list, all admitted candidates will take a language assessment test and based on the test's results the destination will be assigned.

Further details about language assessment tests will be given in due time.

The study plan abroad

While verifying the study offer of the partner institutions, please consider as follows:

- The availability of courses which will be part of your study plan of next year (should be around 30 ECTS);
- During your mobility abroad it's possible to take exams of the previous years
- It's not possible to anticipate exams of the following years (except for rare cases confirmed by the coordinator)
- Optional courses (free choice) do not need to be matched with a course with similar content abroad: you can choose courses from the academic offer of the host institution and they will be recognised as a generic «insegnamento a scelta» (but please check this with your coordinator).

Erasmus for Thesis research abroad

Candidates who intend to apply for their final thesis research are asked to upload, together with their application:

- Support letter from supervising professor at UNIBS;
- Invitation letter from the host institution;
- A brief description of the research project;

They will indicate only 1 preferred destination (the host institution which is inviting them).

UNIBS offers a separate scholarship programme for thesis abroad that is easier to access.
