Supercritical CO₂ cycles for the next generation of concentrated solar power plants

Vladimir Naumov

The PHD Corner is a space where a PHD student can freely present a topic related to his/her research, which may also be of interest to other people such as other students and professors. This could be an excellent opportunity to practice a presentation before a formal conference in a more relaxed environment. After the presentation, there will be a small refreshment. Hope to see you there!

Date: 13th December 2024, 4 pm

Location: Aula consiliare, via Branze 38

We encourage PhD students to come and present their research topic and latest results!

AFTER THE PRESENTATION THERE WILL BE A LIGHT REFRESHMENT
