CALL FOR APPLICATIONS A.Y. 2020/21
Erasmus+ Programme

• Erasmus+ offers Unibs’ students at all levels the chance to spend a semester or academic year abroad with full recognition of the activities.
• Students can choose between more than 150 partner universities (list on the call webpage)
Erasmus+ scholarships

• The Erasmus+ scholarship is of EUR 250,00 o 300,00 per month depending on the cost of living in the assigned host country (see list in the call)

• Unibs offers an additional scholarship to all winners based on family income (ISEE certification) from a minimum of 180,00 EUR to max 650,00 EUR per month

• 85% of the total amount of the scholarship will be transferred after arrival at destination, the remaining 15% after the return at Unibs.

• If you are benefitting from the regional «Diritto allo studio» scholarship you will keep it while abroad with a little increase.

• If you are benefitting from free meals at Unibs, you will get the value in euro together with the scholarship
Erasmus+ call

- All students enrolled in a degree course in Unibs can apply (undergraduate, postgraduate, doctorate)

- Requirements:
  - Weighted average mark (media ponderata) greater than or equal to the value in the list attached to the call (valori soglia media ponderata)
  - Good knowledge of the English language and possibly another European language
Calcolo del punteggio

The ranking list will take into account the weighted average mark, years of enrollment and credits obtained by November 30th 2019.

Students enrolled in the 1° year of a Master’s degree course will be ranked based on their undergraduate career (at Unibs or abroad).

If graduated in other Italian or foreign universities the score will be calculated based on the graduation grade "normalized to the unit" and multiplied by 0.88.
Destination preferences

• The host university will be assigned based on the position of the student in the ranking list and the requirements of the partner universities.

• The 5 preferences the student can express when applying are an indication only. Commissions can assign to a different destination if they find it more suitable.
Admission criteria

• Residing in Italy (with a valid permesso di soggiorno);
• Enrollment in A.Y. 2019/20 in a Bachelor’s/ Master’s degree or Doctorate course at Unibs;
• Not having benefited of another Erasmus+ scholarship for more than 12 months in the same degree cycle (24 for single-cycle courses);
• Having acquired at least half of the credits you were supposed to acquire at 30/11/2019;
• Having acquired a weighted average mark higher than or equal to the value detailed in the list attached (valori soglia media ponderata) at 30/11/2019;
• Having an adequate knowledge of the language of the countries of preference.
Language competences

ATTENTION! Language knowledge is a pre-condition of the mobility and not its goal.

BEFORE you express your preferences in the online application, make sure you know the language of the country of preference.

Besides English, most host universities will require the knowledge of the local language (French, Spanish, German).

For countries where they speak less common languages (Greece, Slovenia, Czech Republic, Sweden, Denmark, Poland, Romania, Portugal, etc.) English is the common language and only requirement.
ATTENTION!

At the beginning of the application procedure, you will be asked to indicate your language knowledge (in English and/or another European language).

After the publication of the ranking list, all admitted candidates will take a free language assessment test. Based on the test’s results they will be assigned to a destination.

The tests will be held in February, more info soon.
Some restrictions

- The duration of the mobility has to be of at least 3 months (90 days) and max 12 months except in cases of force majeur (recognised by the National Agency);
- Students need to acquire at least 12 ECTS credits per semester while abroad or they will need to give the scholarship back to Unibs.
How to apply

• Follow the instructions on the online application form (from you personal page)
• You can indicate max 5 preferences of destination (assigning numbers from 1 to 5)
• Attachments are NOT MANDATORY. You can attach whatever you think is useful for your evaluation (language certificates, etc.) or don’t attach anything.
How to apply

ATTENTION!

While choosing your preferred destinations, please take into account:

➢ The academic offer of the partner university and its compatibility with your study plan at UNIBS;
➢ Language requirements of the preferred host institutions;
➢ Deadlines of the host institution, academic calendar and immigration requirements;

It is very useful in order to make your choice to meet your Erasmus+ Academic coordinator (see list on the website)
Thesis research abroad - Erasmus

Students can also join the Erasmus+ programme for their final thesis research at one of the listed partner university. Together with the application, they should upload:

• Support letter from supervising professor at Unibs;
• Invitation letter from host university
• Detailed description of the research topic.

They will only express their preference for the agreed host institution.
Operational suggestion

1) Before applying, the student should check out the partner universities’ websites, in order to gather all useful information;

2) Partner universities are listed in an Excel file attached to the call. For Engineering courses: you first need to check what ISCED code belongs to your course, then check out only the destinations paired with that code.

3) You need to check the available courses at the preferred universities and see the correspondance to your study plan. For each foreign course, you need to check the content, number of credits, hours of lesson in class.
Double degres programmes

Double Degree programmes available:

• Universidad de Almeria (Laurea in Automazione Industriale)
• Université Sorbonne (LM Automazione Industriale)

You can express your interest in these programmes in the application.

Coordinators:
Sorbonne: Prof. Giovanni Legnani
Almeria: Prof. Antonio Visioli
