The seminar consists in a presentation of AI technology, followed by explanations on some of the current regulations that affect most the development and exploitation of AI tools. It also raises a few questions, in relation to the challenges caused by AI in terms of future legislation. The seminar ends with a debate on those challenges.