

Doctor Giovanna Tabellini was born in Portogruaro on the 20th December 1970. In July 1997 she obtained a degree in Biological Science in the Faculty of Natural Sciences in the State University of Trieste. In 2005 she had Researcher place in Histology Unit of Faculty of Medicine of Brescia (Italy). Since 2005 she works in the research group of Prof. Silvia Parolini. She collaborates with the research group of Prof. Alessandro Moretta of DIMES (Department of Experimental Medicine) of University of Genoa (Italy). In his laboratory she had the possibility to specialize in the techniques of generation of monoclonal antibodies and cloning of human natural Killer lymphocytes.